ing parties especially for young ladies. The effort, if successful will first take form and find expression at the Charity Ball, which takes place at the Academy on February 10, but the idea has been adopted by many young daughters of fashionable ladies at private entertainments, and gets rid of so much that is annoying, is so plain in accordance with the dictates of good sense and correct taste, that those in a position to make a choice could hardly hesitate between the short skirt and the long.

Here is a good satire upon the custom that prevails in this State (Virginia) of bestowing a military title upon any person who can establish the remotest claim to it.

Some time ago I had the following conversation with a Virginian "colonel"—an elderly gentleman, belonging, of course, to one of the first families. He was a man of great intelligence, of a very jovial turn, and had withal such a keen sense of humor that he enjoyed a joke none the less because it seemed to be at his own expense. I said to him:

"Colonel, did you see much service during the war?"

"Oh no; I was not in the army at all. I had passed the military age before the war began."

"Ah, then you served in 1812?"

"No, sir; that time it was just the other way—I was too young then."

"I suppose, then, you were a colonel of volunteers in the Mexican war?"

"You are wrong again, sir. I never was in Mexico."

"Oh, I see how it is—you were a militia colonel during the piping times of peace?"

"No, sir; I never served in the militia."

"Well, will you please tell me how on earth you got your title of colonel?"

"Why, that's very easily explained. You see, there used to be, before the war, a law imposing a fine for not attending the militia musters. And they made me a colonel on account of my promptness in paying the fine."

J. A. DENNISTON.

NEW CASH FIRM.

The undersigned having purchased of G. W. Hawes the stock of Groceries in the store formerly occupied by him, on the corner of Court and Main Sts., intend to continue the grocery business, and to sell at such prices that no man can say hard times when they can get so much for a dollar as they can here. By this time it was easily seen with the eye, but as it could not be approached in ordinary manner nearer than from the roofs of buildings on the opposite side of the street, its species could not be ascertained. The third spring it put forth again with renewed life, vigor and size. Instead of dwindling and drooping from the effects of the winter's cold and the summer's heat, the atmosphere of justice from below seemed to cause it to flourish extraordinarily. This season it was decided to be a silver maple sprig, no doubt, from a seed carried by a bird or whirlwind, and lodged in the elevated place. By this time the tree had become famous. Accounts of it had appeared in the papers, but the story was not generally believed.

But, nevertheless, the tree lived and grew. It was there, and no mistake. And so it has continued to grow day by day. It is now more than twelve feet high, and is thought to be three inches in diameter. The top is quite bushy, and, in the summer season, the leaves are numerous and luxuriant. It can be seen for many miles around, and the stranger approaching first sees the tower and then this phenomenon.

The rapid growth of the tree is forcing the stones apart. This can readily be seen with a glass. Ere long the ambitious maple will have to be brought lower, or damage to the building will follow. The sheriff has already had several applications from expert climbers to take it down, but the people will not permit their tree to be removed yet. An artist representing a New York illustrated paper called to sketch the curiosity, but the leaves were off, and he postponed it until a more favorable time. Persons approaching the place from Cincinnati get a view of it by looking from the north windows as they draw near Greensburg. Of course it appears to much greater advantage when in full leaf, and at such time it is indeed a strange curiosity.

The Old Woman and Her Tobacco.

From the New York Sun.

At the over-ripe age of 103 years died yesterday Eliza Reilly, of Cavan county, Ireland, in a squalid room in a building in the rear of 132 East Fourth-street. She was a beggar and lived alone. Wednesday night she was last seen by the inmates of the house. About noon yesterday a neighbor who used to carry her a cup of coffee in the morning went up to her room as usual and asked, "How do you feel this morning, Mrs. Reilly?" The old woman was sitting half way out of the bed, partly dressed, and tightly clutching a package of tobacco, her favorite poison for some seventy years.

AN UNRECORDED BIT OF HISTORY.

Benedict Arnold's Narrow Escape from Death at the Hands of a Woman.

From the New York Times.

The recent death of Mrs. Ann Hinman Kellogg, of Fairfield, Connecticut, in the 93d year of her age, recalls an unrecorded incident of the war of the revolution. Mrs. Kellogg was the daughter of Captain Elias Hinman, of the United States navy, and her husband was the only American that remained in New London when the town was destroyed by the traitor Benedict Arnold in 1781. At that time Captain Hinman's ship was hourly expected to arrive at New London, and it was hoped that he might come in time to save the town. Mrs. Hinman was well acquainted with Arnold, who had been killed at her house and had been a friend of her husband. Induced by anxiety for her husband's safety, she remained after all others had fled, and watched the entry of the British from the doorway of her house. As Arnold rode up he saw and saluted her, and said she would point out her own property if it should be spared. She pointed out the houses of several of her neighbors as her own, and thus saved them from destruction. Arnold remained on horseback near her house all day, noting the battle that was raging at Fort Griswold on the Groton side of the river, where the tall monument commemorates the event now stands. Three times were the British driven down the hill by the deadly fire from the fort. Then the ammunition of the defenders became exhausted and they were obliged to surrender. The British officer in command of the storming party was so enraged at the desperate defense of the fort that he ordered the British to march on to the town. He asked, "Who commands here?" Colonel Leyard replied, "I did, but you do now," at the same time surrendering his sword. The officer received the sword and instantly plunged it into the heart of the traitor. An American officer standing beside the Colonel snatched his own sword from his scabbard, and in a minute the cowardly British lay close beside his victim. An indiscriminate massacre of all within the fort followed, and thirty of the wounded Americans were piled into a wagon that was rolled down a steep hillside to the bottom, where it was dashed to pieces against a tree. Then hurried preparations were made to evacuate their position by the British. Arnold having learned of the expected arrival of Captain Hinman, Mrs. Hinman, having witnessed these outrages from her house top, became so incensed against the traitor that she hurriedly climbed from the roof, took a musket from a closet where it had been left the day before by an American soldier, and leveled it at Arnold as he sat on his horse in front of the house. Taking a long steady aim, she pulled the trigger, but the piece missed. Hearing the snap of the lock, Arnold turned and asked her what that noise was. With great presence of mind she had dropped the gun, so he did not see it, and she answered that it was the breaking of a chair.

This incident formed the subject of a painting by Huntington, the artist, whose wife is a grand-niece of Mrs. Hinman. This painting is now in the possession of Mr. Thomas Day, of Bergen Point, N. J. In it Mrs. Hinman is represented as leveling a musket at Arnold from a window of her house, and the burning town is seen in the background. The remains of both Captain and Mrs. Hinman now lie in the Cedar Grove Cemetery in New London, where their monument is one of the finest to be seen.

The Facts About Sam Snyder.

We were all sitting on the piazza in front of Byler's store, and Abner Byng was there, with his legs cocked up against a post and his chair tilted back. Dr. Murray was running his hand over a column of the country paper, when he suddenly said: "Hello! This is queer! Why, it says that an English chemist has succeeded in distilling whiskey from saw-dust."

"That's nothing," said Abner Byng, flipping his thumb.

"How do you mean nothing?" asked the Doctor.

"Oh, it's old, awful old. I know that years ago. Did you ever meet Sam Snyder?"

"No, never met him."

"Well, Sam was a hard drinker—must have run by one means or another. He had no money and nobody to trust him or treat him. So Sam somehow ascertained that whiskey could be made out of saw-dust, and do you know what he'd do?"

"He'd get so drunk off a fence rail and a cross cut saw that he couldn't tell a cow from a sugar cured ham. Put him near to a wood pile and a saw-buck, and let him alone, and before 8 o'clock he'd turn out the most delicious mint juleps you ever tasted."

"Easily done, was it?"

"Easily? Why, one time his family tried to keep him sober by putting him out on the roof and keeping him there; and do you know what Sam did? Got a boy to tie a wash-bowling and four feet of lead pipe to a saw, and Sam fished ten up, and in three days he had turned every shingle into cockles, and he fell through into the gutter in such a frightful condition of intoxication that they had to give him electric shocks from a forty-two cell battery to bring him back to consciousness."

"You know this to be a fact do you?"

"Certainly. I was there. Why, that man acquired a preference for liquor made from wood, and three times to my certain knowledge, he got mainia a potu from consumption of distilled pine boards and potato-mashers, he drank up four sets of chair legs; and one Fourth of July, when his wife stopped his destruction of furniture, he celebrated the day by calling in three or four friends to drink a new kind of energetic brandy that he'd just made out of a window sill and a cloths prop. Drink! Why, sir, I pledge you my word, Snyder in a single winter drank up a smoke-house, three wash-tubs and a front door. Nothing could stop him when he got going."

"Why did he prefer domestic utensils?"

"He didn't. There was a wood cut back of his house that belonged to his aunt. Sam'd go out there with a meat saw, or any kind of a saw he could get, and in two years he had stimulated his system with eight chestnut trees, four persimmons, one oak, fifteen saplings of various kinds. Thinned that grove out so that his aunt couldn't rent it to picnic parties. Nearly broke the old lady's heart, too."

"Did he kill himself drinking?"

"Well, not exactly. I'll tell you how it was. It seems that he was haunted for a long time with the idea that if he could distill the Presbyterian church steeple he could turn out an article that'd bear a resemblance, somehow, to old apple brandy. Queer, wasn't it? But the man was not exactly right; his mind was diseased. So one night he got on the roof of the church and he got there—I dunno how it was, but the idea seemed to strike him to take the thing may be to see if he was right about the weather-cock, and there he stuck, whirling around all night as the wind struck him. Dead! He was dead—Martin Van Buren when they come to take him down!"

"He swallowed the weather cock, did he?"

"Yes, sir."

"Well, that wasn't half as hard to swallow as your whole yarn," said Byler. "You don't doubt my veracity, I hope?" said Abner. "You do? Well, if you have a quarter about you it will soothe my wounded feelings. I only want a—"

Just at this juncture Byler kicked Mr. Byng off the porch, and Abner walked away to the next tavern with a faint hope that the bartender would give his credit one more chance.—Max Alder.

Colonel Forney's new weekly paper, Progress, which from its first number has proved so complete a success, is largely devoted to anecdotes and reminiscences of persons of distinction; as, for example, the following of Horace Greeley, who was a candidate for President in 1872:

"Mr. Greeley was an extreme temperance leader, as pure as cold water, even in his bladders, but as much out of place as a Democratic nominee as Bishop Simpson in the Vatican. After he agreed to stand for that high office, the Southern politicians called on him at Chappaqua, his country-seat on the Harlem road, and he benevolently asked them to drink from his famous spring. They were surprised but subsilient, until he offered them a second draught, at which Governor—, of Louisiana, somewhat testily declined, with the remark that that was a beverage he never internally applied. The legend runs that when the press left the white-haired editor, the Governor sadly observed that he had to drink several cocktails to keep the nomination down."

Who has not heard of Tom Marshall's wit? I remember being present once when he was making a political speech in the open air from a platform. A fellow, quite tiny, allowed his way up to the front of the platform below, looked up, and with thickened utterance said to the speaker:

"I know oo, Tom Marshall; you're nothin' but a demagogue."

"That may be," said Marshall. "Put a wisp of straw around your neck, and you'd be a demagogue."

In July last the Hon. Alexander H. Stephens made a periodical visit to his old home in Talulaha County, Georgia. The plantation is now under the supervision of a favorite old servant, who has charge of all his former servants who are unable to support themselves, either from one or another reason, and the products of the farm are devoted to that purpose. "Old Bob" was always true—in other words, he never felt the yoke of slavery. He was always full of his jokes and addressed his master and master's friends on terms of equality. On this occasion, when Mr. S. was about to leave, he said, "Bob, I have a notion to come down and take dinner with you some. Have you got anything you could serve up for me and a friend if I should bring one?" Thereupon Bob broke out in a loud guffaw, and exclaimed, "Why, Master Alex, hard as de time is, we still have something for stragglers when dey comes along."

BRIEFLETS.

—Humid.
—January is stopping over.
—The water-works question has thawed out again.
—The Mutual Improvers go to it again this evening.
—The cisterns took their first drink for the season to-day.
—The Marshal Keating is on the sick list, and is confined to home.
—Everybody ought to have taken a horn this morning—a fog-horn.
—It looks now as if the cutters will soon be used for hen-roosts again.
—A good many complain of having bad colds. No one seems to have a good cold.
—No hurry about hatching spring chickens and poetry. More cold weather yet to come.
—Hon. Alexander Graham appears on the streets to-day greeting his many friends.
—No trouble to warm up the churches and still less trouble to warm up the old sermons.
—Old indications told us to look out for a light rain to-day. It was more like a dark rain.
—The literary folk of Court Street church meet Wednesday night to talk and read about John Howard.
—The valentines begin to make grimaces at everyone who passes the show windows of the bookstores.
—Mrs. A. C. Bates is quite sick, having been taken with congestion of the lungs. She is easier than yesterday.
—The Circuit Court doings to-day were as dry as the weather is wet. This afternoon cases of equity are being attended to.
—William Casar, who has been sick for some time, is reported as being worse, and fears are entertained that he will not recover.
—Dr. Judd started this morning for a six months' trip to Texas and Mexico. His many friends wish him a safe and joyous journey.
—Miss Exilda Luchapelle is again heard from, this time in Chicago, where she is attempting to beat Madame Anderson's walk.
—Mr. Tramp, a traveling man, and his brother, spent Sunday with Sheriff Comstock. The twin renewed their journeyings this morning.
—One of Burr Robbins' ring horses was taken sick this morning, and before aid could be had, he curled up and died. The horse was a valuable one.
—City Clerk Burgess is confined to his home with a cold, but expects to be able to go out this evening, and give his views of Felix Holt, at the M. I. C.
—One of Prentice & Erverson's show windows has been tastefully fitted with a pyramidal display of Hale's Cough Cordial. It makes a very attractive show, and claims the attention of every passer-by.
—The Afton Dramatic Club are to give "Ten Nights in a Bar Room" at the Janesville Grange Hall, February 5. The club have given the drama several times with good success, and they will doubtless draw together a crowd.
—George H. Broderick, of Chicago, whose bass voice has so captivated the music-lovers of Janesville, has been engaged by Col. Mapleson's opera troupe. He is to join the troupe in New York, and has contracted for six years for $40,000.
—The temperance organization known as the True Helpers, connected with All Souls church, yesterday held their quarterly exercises, and elected Rev. Jenk L. Jones as President; Miss Ida Harris, Secretary and Treasurer, and Clarence Conant, Willie Buchholz, and Charlotte Prichard as Directors.
—"My Awful Dad" will have a good many callers to-morrow night at his reception at the Opera House. John Dillon will act as chief bugler and the Wallace Combination will assist him. Everybody is expecting a jolly time, and are taking a rest to gain strength for the big laugh which is promised everybody who goes.
—There will be a free musicale at Miss Battle's rooms this evening. The musical features of the programme will be rendered by Miss Battle, Miss Ada Eldred, Miss Emma Baldwin, Miss Fannie Sheldon, Mr. C. D. Evans, Miss Annie Harre, and Miss Vesta Anderson, and readings will be given by Miss Mary Pond, Miss Mary Barnard, and Mrs. Day.
—Yesterday afternoon as Mr. Crandall, of Harmony, was driving along Main street, his steed slipped and fell, breaking a thigh bone. The horse was so badly injured as to render his recovery hopeless, and he was consequently relieved of further suffering by having his throat cut, and the remains were immediately interred in the stomachs of Burr Robbins' wild beasts.
—One of Nick Frederick's teams was standing hitched in the Fourth ward yesterday, while the driver was eating his breakfast. One of the bridles became broken and the team getting tired of waiting for the man to finish his feast, broke loose and started for the barn. They were not over-careful about keeping in the middle of the road, and in trying to run over a post damaged the cutter slightly.
—Matt Green was on the war path again Saturday night. When full of strong drink he seems to have a strange desire to smash the front glass in Scherfman's saloon on East Milwaukee street. Saturday night he went at them again, and succeeded in demolishing three. The irate proprietor called for the police, and told them to hurry Matt off or he would "shoot him mit the eye." Sheriff Comstock, and Constables Drake and Taylor escorted Matt away and put him safely behind the bars. To-day Justice Pritchard bid him stay there for forty days.

THE RESURRECTION.

The City Fathers Revive the Long Buried Water-Works Question.

Another Report and Another Protest.

An adjourned meeting of the Common Council was held at the City Hall on Saturday evening, which was presided over by Mr. President Davies, all the Aldermen being present.

City Clerk Burgess being confined to his home by a severe cold, Captain C. W. Baker was, on motion of Ald. Davies, elected Clerk pro tem.

The journal for all the meetings of the Council since November 25th, 1878, was read and approved.

Ald. Church presented the following petition:

To the Hon. the Mayor and Common Council of the City of Janesville:

The undersigned citizens of said city respectfully show that they are aggrieved by any present action on the part of the Common Council looking to the building of water works or to furnishing aid to any company or person proposing to build such works.

That the general depression in business, now prevailing, and the difficulty many citizens experience in paying taxes, are anomalous against measures, the effect of which must be to increase the already heavy burden of taxation. The undersigned, therefore, pray your honorable body to suspend, for the present, all action respecting water works.

Dated January 25, 1879.

The petition was received and placed on file.

The clerk read a number of accounts against the various funds, which were referred to the proper committees.

Ald. Lawrence, from the finance committee, reported in favor of allowing sundry bills, which was concurred in.

Ald. McKinney, from the special committee on water-works, submitted the following report:

To the Mayor and Common Council of the City of Janesville:

Your committee to whom was referred the matter of water supply for the city of Janesville, and the following report:

Whereas, at a public meeting of the citizens of Janesville held at the rooms of the common council on the 1st of November, 1878, and at several meetings held prior to said date, the expression was decidedly in favor of the city contracting for a water supply to be furnished by some private corporation;

And whereas, the result of the election submitting the matter of water supply by private corporation showed a total vote of 1363, of which number 1225 votes were cast in favor of the city contracting for a supply of water to be furnished by private corporation, and only 238 votes were cast against the proposition;

And whereas, there seems to be a conflict of opinion as to the power of the common council to bind the city by any contract for a supply of water in any amount exceeding $50,000 per annum;

Your committee, therefore, being desirous of respecting the wishes of the large majority of our citizens voting in favor of the city providing a supply of water, do recommend that his Honor, the Mayor, for and in behalf of the Common Council do cause an ordinance to be passed by the Legislature from this district to secure such legislation as may be necessary to enable the common council of this city to contract with any private corporation that may construct water works in this city for a supply of water for city purposes, and to raise therefor a sum not exceeding $7,500 per annum, and such further legislation as may be necessary to enable the city of Janesville to construct and operate water works.

And your committee would further report that in their opinion it would be advisable to submit again to the voters of this city to be voted upon at the next spring election the question of providing a water supply.

Dated January 25, 1879.

H. D. McKINNEY,
F. S. LAWRENCE,
JOHN W. WELLS.

Ald. Vankirk moved that the report be accepted. Adopted.

Ald. Vankirk moved that the report be adopted.

Ald. Lawrence moved that the report be laid on the table for further action. The question was debated at some length, Ald. McKinney favoring the adoption of the report, that our citizens might ascertain the true franchise granted the Janesville Hydraulic Company. Many of our citizens believing the privilege granted to be prejudicial to the best interests of tax payers, and seeking the legislation recommended, would meet with opposition from the Hydraulic Company when its full scope would be ascertained. Alderman Lawrence, Church and Fitzgibbon opposed it. Finally Alderman Lawrence, withdrew his amendments, and the question was put upon the adoption of the report, which resulted as follows:

Ayes—Ald. Joyce, Lawrence, McKinney, Vankirk, Wilcox—5.

Noes—Church, Davies, Fitzgibbon, Henning, Hutchinson—5.

President Davies declared the motion lost.

Ald. Vankirk, from the Fire Committee, reported in favor of connecting the two engine houses by telegraph, and moved that the work be done under the direction of the Chief Engineer at an expense not to exceed $45. Adopted.

On motion of Ald. Vankirk, Mr. Henry A. Doty was granted permission to construct a culvert under Main street at his Feed Mill.

Ald. Davies, from the Judiciary Committee, reported adversely to the proposition of Mayor Norcross, asking for amendments to the City Charter. The report was adopted.

Ald. Lawrence called up the claim of J. G. Alden, (assigned by Ald. Fitzgibbon) and moved that the clerk be directed to make the proper endorsement on the order, according to the charter, notwithstanding the veto of the Mayor. The Alderman stated that the Mayor had failed to notify the Council of his objections.

The motion was adopted—Ald. Joyce alone voting no. Ald. McKinney having retired.

The December report of the Police Justice was reported back as correct and filed.

The Council adjourned.

THE WEATHER.

The thermometer at 7 o'clock this morning stood at 44 degrees above and at 2 o'clock this afternoon at 45 degrees above.

Fog and rain.

The indications are, southerly shifting to colder westerly winds, fully followed by rising barometer, and generally cloudy weather, with rain or snow.

NOT ACCEPTED.

Yesterday a meeting of the members of the Presbyterian church and society was held, at the close of the morning services, to consider the question of accepting the resignation of the pastor, Rev. J. W. Sanderson. Resolutions were passed highly endorsing that worthy cleric, and by a unanimous vote it was decided not to accept the resignation. Steps have already been taken to relieve the society of all financial embarrassment, and $750 was raised quickly, which puts the society out of debt.

Mr. A. P. Bennett has been quite active in effecting this, and to him was given a vote of thanks, which he well merited. It will rejoice the many friends of the society that every financial weight has been laid aside, and that it will now swiftly run the race set before it. It will rejoice all, even more, that Rev. Mr. Sanderson will still continue as pastor, and the high tribute paid to him by the society yesterday is but an echo of the feelings which have long existed in the community as regards him and his work.

A "BUSTED" BAND.

The "Georgia Minstrels" came, saw, and were "busted." A slim house greeted them Friday night, and Saturday night only a baker's dozen appeared, but the Minstrels did not play, except to play out. They ordered a special train to get to Milton with, and put up a bass violin and a box of property as collateral. Just as they were about to take the train an examination of the violin was made by the railroaders, and to their astonishment it was found that the bridge was down, and the fiddle was so badly humpbacked that a tune couldn't have been scraped out on it unless it was all rebuilt, except one string. The collateral not being sufficient, the engine was sent back to the round house, and the troupe scattered. Some took time by the fiddle, and started to "hoot it" to the next town. Others sat with their legs dangling over the edge of the platform, waiting for morning to come.

Others strolled down town. A silver watch and nickel chain was put up as security for the "bus and dray bill, and trucks were left to satisfy the landlord. Those of the band who remained over Sunday left this morning for Milwaukee, where is said they organized. This is the first town in which they showed up, and unless they increase their capital stock it will probably be their last.

SATURDAY'S SCRAMBLE.

To the Editor.

In the "scramble" on the ice last Saturday. The Recorder reports, "Wellers 'Morose' left Lady McKee behind easily, in a heat between those horses." The reporter evidently must have judged that a flash of a heat must necessarily result in the same position in which the horses start. Upon that basis we were reported fairly.

When we passed the reporter, which was soon after we started, Lady McKee was really behind; when we finished, I am willing to concede, a dead heat, as I have no doubt Mr. Weller will be willing to acknowledge. When we finished, the reporter, to my certain knowledge, was more than a quarter of a mile away. He evidently gained his information of the finish from some biased party. It was very much to the credit of "Lady McKee" that she did, as the fine young mare Morose has a record of 2:37, and can beat 2:30 (so claimed) and she had also the advantage of a very skillful professional driver. I would have taken no notice of the report, but for injustice done to a very promising young mare.

It Stopped the Cough!

From the Hon. James Ross, Grand Lecturer L. C. G. T. Wia.

I take great pleasure in giving testimony to the efficacy of Hale's Cough Cordial in curing a persistent cough and catarrh. For a month while engaged nightly in public speaking, I had suffered with an annoying cough which stubbornly resisted the various cough remedies that I had taken. Through the advice of friends I fortunately gave Hale's Cough Cordial a trial, when my coughing ceased at once, and the following day it had done its work completely and I felt all right. The first dose went directly to the cold spot in my lungs, and in the midst of a general warmth and perspiration the stubborn cough seemed to dissolve. In gratitude and esteem, I am

Yours truly,
JAMES ROSS.

Mrs. Sarah A. Elliott,

Author of "Mrs. Elliott's Household," Oxford, N. C. writes: I was among the first that used the "London Hair Color Restorer" in this section, and recommended it to M. A. & C. A. Santos, Norfolk, Va., as the most beautiful hair dresser and preserver I had ever seen. I was advised by an eminent physician to use it. Since doing so, it has proved so satisfactory in restoring and beautifying my hair, as well as strengthening my eyesight, that I have recommended it to the druggists here in Oxford, Raleigh, and a great many of my friends, and believe I have from what others say, caused it to have a wide and extended sale, and do so, as it certainly is the most cleanly and effective hair restorer now before the American people. The "London Hair Color Restorer" can be obtained at all the leading druggists at 75 cents a bottle, or $1 for six bottles. jydawdwy-4

A Medicine Chest for 25 Cents.

Perhaps no one medicine is so universally required by everybody as a good cathartic. SWANEY'S TART AND SASSAPARILLA are prepared expressly to meet the necessity; being composed of pure vegetable ingredients, of which Podo-phylla or Mandrake, Pine Tree Tar, Sarsaparilla, Yellow Dock and other concentrated juices enter largely into their composition; the whole strength of which is extracted on an entirely new principle. They are mild in their operation, produce no griping, and are truly a valuable purgative agent, and bilious and catarrhic medicine. They stimulate the liver to healthy action, cleanse the stomach and bowels of all impurities. Curing sick and nervous headache, dyspepsia or indigestion, biliousness, intermittent, remittent and congestive fevers, languor, drowsiness, aching pains in the back, head, slight chills, with flashes of heat, female irregularities, and for a bilious and constive habit, no medicine is so prompt and effectual as Dr. SWANEY'S TART AND SASSAPARILLA PILLS. If your druggist or storekeeper has not got them, or will not procure them for you, we will forward them by mail on receipt of price, in currency or postage stamps, 25 cents a box, or five boxes for $1.
